COMITÉ INTERNATIONAL DE LA CROIX-ROUGE

The International Committee of the Red Cross and the College of Europe invite you to participate in an introductory seminar on

"International Humanitarian Law"

College of Europe, ul. Nowoursynowska 84, Natolin (Warsaw), 19-21 March 2009

Following the most recent developments of the European Defence and Security Policy and the growing need to deal with the consequences of armed conflicts, the College of Europe in cooperation with the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) organises a seminar – following the success of the previous years events – with the participation of Prof. Yves Sandoz (Université de Genève), together with Prof. Elzbieta Mikos-Skuza (Warsaw University), and other practitioners of law and EU affairs who will address highly discussed issues related to the implementation of IHL by the European Union. Participants can acquire in-depth knowledge and discuss these issues with academics and practitioners from the field.

The seminar is open to students (final year of studies) of Law and Administration, International Relations, Political Sciences, Diplomacy, European Studies, Journalism and other related fields, students of the College of Europe, as well as to students/researchers currently attending a postgraduate programme in the above fields. (This seminar is part of the academic programme of the College.)

A certificate of participation will be given to participants who followed the entire programme. The Programme will be conducted in English without translation.

Participation (including materials and lunches during the seminar) is free of charge, but registration is requested.

Students interested in attending this course should send the enclosed registration form by the 16th March to the College of Europe, Natolin Campus (by e-mail IHLseminar@coleurope.eu , or by fax: + 48 22 64 91 352).
