

College of Europe
Collège d'Europe

Natolin

The College of Europe launches a call for applications for its third El-Hiwar Summer School on Euro-Arab Relations: “Euro-Arab futures: Anticipating challenges, crafting solutions and building resilience together”.

The College of Europe, as implementing entity of the EU-funded project El-Hiwar III, is very pleased to announce that the call for applications for its third summer school on Euro-Arab relations is open. The programme, focused on “Euro-Arab futures: Anticipating challenges, crafting solutions and building resilience together” will take place from 17 to 21 July 2023 on the campus of the College of Europe in Bruges.

The programme includes five days to enhance knowledge of Euro-Arab relations, strengthen skills and explore avenues to promote cooperation in anticipating challenges and resilience-building.

The programme combines different formats in order to maximise the learning potential:

- Live interactive lectures;
- Dedicated workshops focussing on skills;
- A study visit to the EU Institutions in Brussels;
- “Ideas lab” sessions during which participants will reflect, brainstorm and exchange ideas;
- Social activities and opportunities to expand your professional network.

Applications are admitted until 29 May 2023.

The Summer School aims at allowing participants to “Learn, connect, network, and make their voices heard by contributing to the discussion on Euro-Arab relations”.

More information: Third El-Hiwar Summer School on Euro-Arab Relations | Coleurope

El-Hiwar III Project contact persons: Mr Emilio LAGE RODRIGUEZ, Ms Stefanie MAERTENS, elhiwar@coleurope.eu

College of Europe Press Officer Bruges Campus: communications@coleurope.eu

Funded by the European Union