BRUGGENBOUWERS

EUtopia wants to create a forum for reflection, well-founded lectures, a high-profile debate, a confrontation and a controversy about the future of our continent

EUROPE AT A TURNING POINT ?

Thursday 3 March 19u30,
Auditorium College of Europe, Verversdijks 16

Lieven Verstraete (VRT – Flemish Television ) interviews Federica Mogherini, Rector of the College of Europe

Will the tension between Ukraine and Russia become the litmus test for the Western alliance?

Would Europe not be better off opting for strategic autonomy to defend its interests vis-à-vis other superpowers such as China and Russia?

Is a further enlargement of the union a solution for former Balkan countries? We put these and other questions to Federica Mogherini, rector of the College of Europe.

Federica Mogherini was Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs and from 2014 to 2019 High Representative for Foreign and Security Policy of the EU. In that position she was involved in the nuclear deal with Iran, the peace negotiations between Palestinians and Israel, and rapprochement efforts between Russia and Ukraine
